A message from our Pastor

Next week is Commitment Sunday for the 2022 Annual Catholic Appeal.

The theme for this year is: “Making all things new ... God’s promise and our responsibility.” This theme has special importance in light of what we have all experienced these past two years. The words direct us to look into the future and, more specifically, to hear God’s promise to make all things new. They also direct us to look at our lives now and to claim our responsibility to work with the Lord to bring about that promised future.

After dealing with the pandemic, social unrest, economic uncertainty, and each one’s personal life challenges, we certainly all need to reclaim God’s promise of a transformed world. We also need to recommit ourselves to work—each in our own way—to foster that transformation.

In this Sunday’s gospel, we hear Luke’s version of the beatitudes. What is especially noticeable in each beatitude is a way that our current and often troubled state of life is changed and made new: from poverty to possession of the Kingdom, from hunger to being satisfied, from weeping to laughter, and from hatred to reward. At each juncture—from present to future—we are called to commit ourselves in hope and work with God to move into that future.

The Annual Catholic Appeal is an occasion to hear God’s promise of making all things new once again. It is an opportunity to support the Church’s outreach in parishes, education, religious and ministerial formation, initiatives for justice, peace, and respect for life. This next week, take time to reflect, pray and ask yourself how you can reclaim God’s promise and collaborate with the Lord and shoulder your responsibility as a disciple of Christ. Consider how your contribution of time, talent and treasure will help you to do this.

Fr. Tom May, Pastor

PRAYER FOR COUPLES

Almighty and eternal God,

You blessed the union of married couples so that they might reflect the union of Christ with his Church:
Look with kindness on them.

Renew their marriage covenant, increase your love in them, and strengthen their bond of peace so that, with their children, They may always rejoice in the gift of your blessing.

We ask this through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

A message from our Associate Pastor

From Tom Hoopes of Aleteia: National Family Week 2022 leads up to National Marriage Day on February 13 — Super Bowl Sunday.

So, who better to look to than Tom Brady, who has won more Super Bowls than any other player in history, and has ended his career for the sake of his marriage?

He married supermodel Giselle Bündchen in 2009 in a Catholic ceremony in Santa Monica, California, but has said he does not know what he believes. The couple have two children and Tom has a son from a previous relationship.

But Brady says family is the reason he is ending his storied 22-year career. Like every great athlete, Brady has poured time and energy into his sport, and the rest of his life had to take a back seat.

“It’s been six straight months of football, every day consumed by day in and day out football,” Brady said on his podcast, “Let’s Go.” “The biggest difference now that I’m older is I have kids now too, you know, and I care about them a lot as well.”

Admittedly, Brady is making this decision late in his career — he is 44, well past the age most people in his sport retire. But American sports columnist, Skip Bayless, makes the point that Brady is also performing better than he ever has in his career.

Bayless his own first marriage, which became his first divorce. “One reason we didn’t make it is I knew she wanted kids and I knew the deeper I got into my career; I just couldn’t have kids. I am obsessed, to this moment, with what I am doing right here, right now with you. I live for this. It’s my whole life,” the ESPN2 commentator said.

“Brady has been obsessed with football” in the same way, he said, and won’t be happy doing otherwise. “In many ways, he’s the greatest over-achiever ever.”

But Brady says his wife has suffered for his career, in more ways than one. “It pains her to see me get hit out there,” he said, “and, you know, she deserves what she needs from me as a husband and my kids deserve what they need from me as a dad.”

When Tiger Woods was single and planning to marry in 2006, many, including his dad, warned him not to. “Let’s face it. A wife can sometimes be a deterrent to a good game of golf,” said Earl Woods.

Back then, golfing legend Jack Nicklaus countered that marriage — if he was faithful to it — would improve Tiger.

“It will be difficult for him to keep the focus on what he is doing if he doesn’t get married,” Nicklaus is quoted saying. “Who is Tiger going to play for? For newspaper clippings? Trophies?” he asked. “Who’s he going to talk to in his hotel room after rounds?”

Nicklaus just celebrated 61 years of marriage. Brady’s own father and mentor, Tom Brady Sr., will celebrate his 53rd anniversary with his wife, Galynn, this year.

When Bayless explained why he wouldn’t have children, he said, “I just knew if I continued to work nights and weekends the way I do, obsessively, that I’d be a horrible father, I’d be as horrible a father as my father was, for other reasons.”

Brady had a much richer relationship with his dad, a man of faith who has spoken at Catholic men’s conferences. When a fan asked the quarterback before the 2017 Super Bowl who his hero was, Brady choked up and said, “My dad.”

On Facebook, Brady had a public message for his father: “Thank you for being such a great example for our family and teaching me respect and unconditional love. You are the greatest man I know, and I hope to be the father to my sons you have been to me. I love you, dad.

There was a much-shared touching moment after Brady completed his seventh, and final, Super Bowl victory in 2021. He called out “Can I say hi to my son?” after the game was over and climbed up to the stands to hug him. He said it is his kids’ needs that have convinced him to retire.

“It’s what relationships are all about,” he said. “It’s not always what I want. It’s what we want as a family. And, you know, I’m going to spend a lot of time with them and then, you know, figure out in the future what’s next.”

Making all things new... God's promise and our responsibility

Many families in our parish will be receiving the Annual Catholic Appeal mailing from Cardinal Cupich. On behalf of those served by the ministries, parishes and schools who receive funding from the Appeal, we thank you for your gifts. Please return your responses as soon as possible.

The Annual Catholic Appeal offers a wonderful opportunity to answer the call "Making all things new... God's promise and our responsibility." This is especially important as many in our parishes have been affected financially by the pandemic. We encourage giving at all levels to support his initiative.

In addition to providing for ministries and services throughout the archdiocese, the Annual Catholic Appeal funds services in our parish.

When we financially support the work of our parish, our archdiocese and the Catholic Church throughout the world, we experience a feeling of deep gratitude, especially when we contemplate God's many gifts to us personally. By sharing our wealth through gifts to the 2022 Annual Catholic Appeal, we demonstrate our commitment to the Church and each other.

Prayer of Generosity

Lord Jesus, teach me to be generous. Teach me to serve as you deserve, To give and not to count the cost, To fight and not to heed the wounds, To labor and not to seek to rest, To give of my self and not ask for a reward, Except the reward of knowing that I am doing your will.

Parish News & Announcements

BROTHER MARK LAU TO PRONOUNCE SOLEMN VOWS

On January 9th, Brother Mark Lau pronounced solemn vows in the presence of Abbot Cuthbert Brogan, U.K., and the Mount Savior community.

Brother Mark was born and raised in Chesterton, Indiana. He was the youngest of four boys. He received an Associate in Culinary Arts Business Management from Northwood University. Before becoming a monk at Mount Savior, he worked almost 40 years in the customer service industry. Brother Mark held positions in the food and restaurant industry, customer service, retail and office management.

Brother Mark was raised in the Lutheran Church. He felt a pull to become Catholic through a close friend who was Catholic and a member of St. Mary Parish, and the two began going to Mass together.

Brother Mark joined RCIA which led to his confirmation in the Catholic Church in 2012 at Easter. He became more and more involved in volunteer work for the church until the volunteering became the equivalent of a full-time job. He was a volunteer with SPRED, and with the food pantry. While in between jobs Brother Mark was offered a full-time job but turned it down because he did not want to stop serving others. When his pastor found out he told Brother Mark "We need to look at this closer." "You have a vocation." The talk led Brother Mark to complete a survey with the religious vocation service Vision Quest, which in turn led him to knowledge of Mount Savior.

Meet the Staff

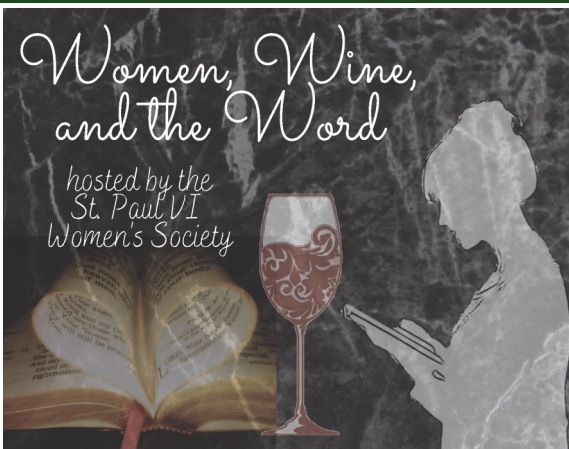

I am Chris Alfred, and I am the Administrative and Communications Supervisor, which mostly means I help wherever I am needed and assist with communications. I have two daughters who are currently in college. Veronica, who some of you may have heard cantor or play the flute, attends St. Ambrose University in Davenport. She is an Early Childhood Education major working on an endorsement in Special Education and a minor in music. You may also have seen my other daughter Jackie, who is a reader and a second-grade catechist. She is also on the Parish Pastoral Council. She attends St. Xavier University, so she lives at home and commutes. She is double majoring in Psychology and Criminal Justice and working on a minor in Political Science.

I worked at St. Hugh, and we were very involved in parish life, so we jumped into parish life at St. Paul VI. I am a reader, Eucharistic Minister, Confirmation and SPRED catechist, part of the Women's Society, and volunteer with St. Vincent DePaul. While this might seem like a lot, it's only about half of what I did at St. Hugh, so trust me, I've taken a break! I also have been volunteering with Girl Scouts for over 15 years and am a part of the Archdiocesan Religious Medals Committee.

Many people ask, what do you do for yourself? I am currently back in college. I figure if my girls can do it, so can I. I haven't completely decided what I want to do when I "grow up," but I have some ideas. I am currently working on my associate degree at Morton College and hope to finish this summer if the classes I need are available.

I was sad when St. Hugh closed, but hopeful and looked forward to working with new people. I hope to see you in and around our parish and am hopeful for our new parish and what it can be with our combined communities coming together. I truly believe if we all bring the very best of each of our legacy parishes, we can make St. Paul VI the best parish.
